Improve Patient Safety, Satisfaction and Experience

Adopted by nearly all healthcare organizations today, hourly rounding as standard practice enables caregiver to communicate essential patient information that improves patient safety and satisfaction. This practice ensures that every patient is checked at least once every hour, increasing patient satisfaction while decreasing patient call bells, patient falls, infections, and lawsuits.

Standard Register Healthcare’s patient rounding boards offer a functional and aesthetically pleasing way to capture key information and reinforce results. What’s more – its unique construction allows providers to change key information on the boards as needed.

The Difference is Clear – Form, Function, and Financial.

1. Backer
2. Pre-Printed Poster
3. Clear Acrylic Face

EASY AS...1. 2. 3.

The SRHC proprietary system combines the backer that is permanently mounted to the wall, a pre-printed poster, and clear acrylic face that acts as a dry-erase surface.

Patent-Pending System Design

The patent pending display system offered by Standard Register Healthcare is made with a polymetal surface and an acrylic face, which is guaranteed not to shatter.

Our system incorporates a poster underneath the acrylic writing surface, allowing the healthcare organization to present current information as content evolves. Eliminating the need to dispose of pre-printed whiteboard as changes occur.

Our solution offers clients the option to select pointed or rounded corners. To compliment the display, we recommend using a low-odor dry erase marker. We can even provide markers branded with your logo – making it easy for staff to select and use the correct marker

Hospitals are not only using our patient rounding boards for pain and care charts. Many hospitals are customizing their boards to display the Patient Bill of Rights and Responsibilities, which is required by law. One of our current customers, Parkland Hospital, displays these rights and responsibilities in 240 locations around the hospital and is currently customizing our patient rounding boards to meet this need within each facility.

“Our clinical staff is very pleased with the new communication boards installed in the postpartum patient rooms. They are clear, easy to clean and less expensive than glass boards on the market.”
